

6TH SUNDAY OF EASTER

MAY 6, 2018

MARY MOTHER OF THE CHURCH

The Assumption of Mary is symbolized by the upward motion of the four colored bands and veil, as well as the stars, which are reminiscent of the hymn "Ave Maria Stella" ("Hail, Star of the Sea"). Mary's facial features are attributed to the original settlers of Acadiana, the Atakapan people. The dove to the left represents the Holy Spirit. The cross and circle to the right represent Christ. The red of the circle makes it the Greek letter Rho, thus showing both a simplified corpus with the cross that forms the two Greek letters Chi Rho, which are the first two letters of Christos in Greek. The lily in the bottom window, which is in the Cry Room, symbolizes the ascension of Christ and assumption of Mary. The serpent recalls the prophecy in Genesis 3:15 ("I will put enmity between you and the women, and between your offspring and hers."), for as Christ is the new Adam, so Mary is the new Eve. The fleur de lis ("flower of the lily") at the bottom of the large window represents our Acadian ancestors who brought the faith to our area.

Powerhouses of Prayer: Religious Life in Acadiana

Pope St. John Paul II wrote "the consecrated life has not only proved a help and support for the Church in the past, but is also a precious and necessary gift for the present and future of the People of God, since it is an intimate part of her life, her holiness and her mission." The centennial of the Diocese of Lafayette allows us to marvel at the incredible witness and support that so many religious communities have given to the People of God here in Acadiana.

The very beginning of the Church in Acadiana was possible because of the religious order priests who came to serve. The first recorded sacrament in the area was celebrated by a Benedictine priest, and the French Capuchins (Franciscan) had a strong presence in the 1700s and 1800s. Many of these priests served in the missionary fields of southwest Louisiana. The first religious community to take root in the diocese was the Religious of the Sacred Heart. In 1821, a small group of sisters were sent by St. Philippine Duchesne to open and operate a school for girls in Grand Coteau called Sacred Heart. Now, almost 200 years later, members of that community continue to serve the Academy of the Sacred Heart.

The first established presence of a male religious community also began in Grand Coteau. In 1837, the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) was invited to the area by Archbishop Anthony Blanc. The Jesuits operated St. Charles College for boys from 1838-1922. The campus serves today as the Jesuit Spirituality Center offering retreats in the model of the spirituality of St. Ignatius of Loyola.

Many other religious orders found their way to the Diocese of Lafayette because of education. In 1846, the Sisters of Mount Carmel were invited to operate a school for girls in Lafayette. Later, these sisters would begin schools in New Iberia, Abbeville, and Rayne. The Brothers of Christian Schools (De La Salle Christian Brothers) also had a long history of involvement in education in Lafayette and beyond. The Sisters of the Most Holy Sacrament, founded in France in 1851, began teaching in Breaux Bridge in 1892. The Most Holy Sacrament Sisters worked in education and healthcare, offering services to the elderly in Lafayette.

The Sisters of the Holy Family, an African American religious order founded in New Orleans by Mother Henriette Delille, began serving in education as early as 1872 when they opened a school in Grand Coteau. The Holy Family Sisters made many great contributions to the Diocese, especially in their ministry at Holy Rosary Institute in Lafayette.

St. Katharine Drexel founded the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament in 1891. Her financial assistance played a major role in the creation of 24 rural schools for African Americans in south Louisiana. Her sisters were sent to the Diocese of Lafayette to educate at many of these schools beginning in New Iberia with St. Edward's School.

Upon the creation of the Diocese of Lafayette, Bishop Jeanmard immediately sought to have a true heartbeat of prayer for the Diocese in the form of a cloistered religious community dedicated solely to prayer. During his time as a priest in New Orleans, Jeanmard served as Chaplain to the Discalced Carmelites there. He extended the invitation for them to open a new monastery in Lafayette as early as 1918, but they were unable to immediately respond to his call. Finally, in May of 1936, five Sisters from the Carmelite community in New Orleans traveled to Lafayette and established a new monastery under the title of Mary, Mother of Grace. The Carmelites remain a constant source of grace and prayer for the Diocese of Lafayette.

The Franciscan Missionaries of Our Lady came to the Diocese in 1949, when they opened a new hospital named Our Lady of Lourdes. These Sisters have continued to serve in healthcare. More recently, in 1986, Mother Teresa of Calcutta opened a convent of the Missionaries of Charity in Lafayette in service to the poor. In 1990, Bishop

Mother Henriette Deille

Flynn invited the Olivetan Benedictine Monks to establish a community in the Diocese. Today, the Mother of the Redeemer Monastery is located near Opelousas, where monks continue the Benedictine tradition of work and prayer.

Religious communities of priests have had a lasting impact on the diocese as well. The Jesuits have served in parish ministry since their arrival in 1837. The Society of St. Joseph (Josephites), Divine Word Missionaries (SVDs) and Holy Ghost Fathers (Spiritans) were all invited into the Diocese of Lafayette for ministry to black Catholics in the early 1900s. Still to this day, they continue to offer pastoral leadership in over twenty Church parishes in the Diocese of Lafayette.

FROM PASTOR'S DESK

OUR BAPTISMAL FONTS - Part III

1. BOWL IS CRACKED - we recently observed that the large outer bowl is cracked, possibly damaged when being shipped from Italy. The warranty will cover the cost to replace it with a new bowl. The new bowl will arrive sometime this summer.

2. CHEMICALS IN THE WATER - there is a filter system to remove debris from the fonts, but it does not take out chemicals such as calcium. Plans are being made to add a second filter system that will remove calcium and other chemicals from the water.

GRADUATE'S PRAYER

Lord, I have knowledge, so will You show me now, how to use it wisely and find a way somehow to make the world I live in a little better place and make life with its problems a little bit easier to face.

Grant me faith and courage and put purpose in my days, and show me how to serve You in effective ways, so my education, my knowledge and my skill may find their true fulfillment as I learn to do your will.

And may I ever be aware in everything I do that knowledge comes from learning and wisdom comes from You. Amen.

Congratulations to our 2018 Graduates!
